This Week at DALNET
February 8, 2002

Digitization Training

The IHDC will be offering four classes to help DALNET members prepare for working with Digital Projects. These classes will be free to DALNET members. Space permitting, these classes will be available to non-DALNET members.

Our goal is to provide introductory classes to help members with little or no experience in digital initiatives. As we investigated our options we determined there is a wealth of knowledgeable people in the southeast Michigan area, so many names may be familiar to you already. The IHDC will evaluate these classes and determine if we can or should offer additional training opportunities, so your feedback is important.

Copyright Issues and Procedures for Digital Initiatives
Wednesday February 20, 2002, 8:30-12:00 noon
Oakland Community College – Southfield Campus, Multipurpose Room 260
Presenter: Michael Seadle, Copyright Librarian – Digital Sources Center, MSU

Digital Project Planning
Wednesday, March 13, 2002, 1:00-4:00
Wayne State University, Adamany Undergraduate Library, Community Room
Presenter: Ruth Jones, Coordinator – Digital Sources Center, MSU

Introduction to Digitization – Images and OCR
Monday, March 18, 2002, 9:30-11:00
University of Detroit Mercy, Room TBA
Presenters: George Libbey, Associate Dean for Public Services and Leo Papa, Associate Dean for Technical Services and System, University of Detroit Mercy

Introduction to Metadata and DALNET Standards for Digital Projects
Friday, March 22, 2002, 9:00-4:00
Walsh College -Troy, Room TBA
Presenters: Judith Aronheim, Metadata Specialist – University of Michigan and DALNET Metadata Task Force (chair: Willy Cromwell-Kessler, Detroit Public Library)

Mark your calendars now. Information on how to register and more details on what will be covered in each session will be sent out early on the week of February 11.