REMOTE ACCESS TO LUIS

LUIS, the Library User Information System, is the online System for the Wayne State University Library System and other Detroit Area Library Network (DALNET) libraries. You can access LUIS from your home or office computer. Access to DCAT requires no special IDs or passwords.

Since the licenses for most leased databases (apart from DCAT) restrict access to affiliated users only (i.e. WSU faculty, students, and staff), a sign-on procedure asks users to identify themselves as WSU-affiliated. You may be asked to enter your Social Security Number before access to a particular database is granted. If you have questions about the sign-on, or if you believe you have been wrongly denied access to a database upon entering your SSN, please contact WSU's Circulation Desk at 313-577-4042 for clarification and/or assistance.

CONNECTING TO LUIS VIA THE INTERNET

If your home or office computer is connected to the Internet and you have Gopher, Telnet, or TN3270 software installed, you can connect to LUIS according to the following addresses and instructions:

- Gopher: `gopher.wayne.edu`
Follow the path: →WSU Libraries & Library Science
→LUIS, WSU's Online Catalog
→Connect to LUIS
- Telnet: `hermes.merit.edu`
From MichNet's "Which Host?" prompt, and follow the "CONNECTING TO LUIS VIA MODEM" instructions (below), starting at #4.
- TN3270: `cms.cc.wayne.edu`
At the VM logon screen, <tab> to "Command==>", type "wsunet", and follow the "CONNECTING TO LUIS FROM WSUNET" instructions (below).

CONNECTING TO LUIS VIA MODEM

Dial-in access to WSUnet is through the statewide MichNet Computer Network. You will need a microcomputer like an IBM-PC or PS/2, Zenith, or Macintosh with a modem and terminal communications/emulation software. WSU's Computing and Information Technology (C&IT) division recommends a VT100 terminal emulation and supports SIM/PC and Kermit communications software for IBM computers and compatibles and MacKermit software for Macintosh computers. Important LUIS keys such as Clear, Reset, and Enter are sometimes redefined with emulation software; check your documentation or call the Consulting Office for details. Call C&IT's Consulting Office at 313-577-4778 for information about how to obtain these products, their configurations, and how to use them.

1. Set your modem and terminal communications/emulation software:

SWITCH	SETTING
Communications
☐ labeled on-line/off-line	ON-LINE
☐ labeled local/remote	REMOTE
Data Rate (transmission speed)	300, 1200, 2400, or 9600 bps
Parity	EVEN or NONE
Auto-Line Feed	OFF
Duplex
☐ labeled FDX/HDX	FDX
☐ labeled FULL/HALF	FULL
☐ labeled COPY/NOT COPY	NOT COPY
Data Bits	With Parity EVEN: 7 With Parity NONE: 8
Stop Bits	1 (one)
Flow Control	ON for most connections

By default, MichNet passes ASCII XON/XOFF flow control to your terminal in response to host or network congestion. It uses the standard ASCII CTRL-Q and CTRL-S characters.

You may not need to set all these switches for your modem and software.

2. Dial a local MichNet telephone number using your modem and software:

5. "%Call connected" is displayed, followed by "Please enter your terminal id; ? for MENU; 'L' to LOGOFF". If emulating a Digital VT100 (as recommended), type 8 ENTER. If using SIM/PC software, type 45. Otherwise, to display the list of terminals and their id numbers, enter a question mark (?).
6. The WSUnet menu is now displayed.

CONNECTING TO LUIS FROM WSUNET

At the WSUnet menu's "Type Choice Here ==>" prompt, type: luis ENTER. The "Welcome to LUIS" screen is displayed; type: luis ENTER.

LOGGING OFF

- From LUIS
 1. Type stop and press ENTER at any screen to get back to WSUnet.
- From WSUnet
 1. Type: logoff ENTER to return to the "Which host?" prompt.
 2. Type: quit ENTER to logoff the network.
 3. Follow the instructions for your communications software to end the session.

GETTING HELP

For assistance with LUIS, use the LUIS online help screens by typing h ENTER when prompted, call the appropriate library phone number (from the "explain dainet" screen in DCAT), or call the WSU Purdy Library Reference Desk, 313-577-6424.

For help connecting to WSUnet or LUIS, call C&IT's Consulting Office, 313-577-4778 or Network Control Center, 313-577-4746.

REMOTE ACCESS TO MIRLYN AND MAGIC

GENERAL INFORMATION

There are several ways to access the online systems of the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, WSU's partners in the Michigan Research Libraries Triangle. Together, the online catalogs of the MRLT provide access to over 19,000,000 volumes and 122,000 journal titles.

Connecting to MCAT and LCAT via LUIS

LUIS provides access to the online catalogs of the University of Michigan Libraries and the Michigan State University Libraries catalogs.

MCAT, the online catalog for the University of Michigan Libraries, and LCAT, the online catalog for the Michigan State University Libraries, are available from most LUIS terminals.

From main LUIS menu, choose REMOTE, or type "choose mcat" or "choose lcat" from any other LUIS screen.

Please note that keyword searching in MCAT and LCAT may be slightly different from keyword searching in DCAT. When connected to the remote library, type "explain k" for more specific information. Also, call number searching in MCAT and LCAT is not available via LUIS.

Searches can be transferred across the various catalogs. Perform your searches in the first catalog, switch to another catalog via the CHOOSE command, then use the REVIEW command to see those searches performed in the previous catalog, and then select the Line Number to re-execute the search.

Connecting to U-M AND MSU via the Internet

If your home or office computer is connected to the Internet and you have Gopher or Telnet software installed, you can connect to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University's online library systems according to the following addresses and instructions:

- Gopher: gopher.wayne.edu
Follow the path: -->WSU Libraries & Library Science
-->Other Libraries' Online Catalogs
-->Michigan State University
-->University of Michigan
- Telnet: hermes.merit.edu
From MichNet's "Which Host?" prompt:
 - To access University of Michigan's catalog, type: mirlyn
 - To access Michigan State University's catalog, type: magic

Follow the "Connecting to U-M and MSU via Modem" instructions (below).

[OVER]

Connecting to UofM and MSU via Modem

You will need a microcomputer such as an IBM-PC or PS/2, Zenith, or Macintosh with a modem and terminal communications/emulation software. WSU's Computing and Information Technology (C&IT) division recommends and supports Sim/PC and Kermit communications software for IBM computers and compatibles, and MacKermit software for Macintosh computers. Call C&IT's Consulting Office at 313-577-4778 for information about how to obtain these products, their configurations, and how to use them.

1. Set your modem and terminal communications/emulation software as you would when dialing-in to LUIS. See LUIS Leaflet No. 5, Remote Access to LUIS for details.

2. Dial a local MichNet telephone number using your modem and software. Detroit's MichNet numbers are 313/577-0335 for 300-1200 bps modems and 313/577-0321 for 2400 bps. (There are many other MichNet numbers in the Detroit area and throughout Michigan which may save telecommunications charges when dialing-in away from WSU; again consult LUIS Leaflet No. 5 for a listing of other MichNet numbers.)

3. MichNet displays a "%Terminal=" prompt. Press <ENTER>.

4. Then MichNet asks "Which host?".

- a. To access University of Michigan's catalog, type: mirlyn <ENTER>.
- b. To access Michigan State University's catalog, type: magic <ENTER>.

5. "%Call connected" is displayed, followed by:

Your terminal type is UNKNOWN. Enter one of the following terminal types or press <ENTER>:

VT100
VT220
VERSA
COLORSC
KERMIT-UM

If emulating a Digital VT100 (as recommended), type vt100 <ENTER>.

6.
 - a. If connecting to MIRLYN, the introductory screen is now displayed.
 - b. If connecting to MAGIC, <tab> to command ==> line, and type: dial magic.

LOGGING OFF

• From MIRLYN or MAGIC

1. Type stop <ENTER> from any screen to return to MichNet's "Which host?" prompt.

• From MichNet

1. Type quit <ENTER> at the "Which host?" prompt.

GETTING HELP

Both MIRLYN and MAGIC use the same searching software as WSU's LUIS; therefore the basic searching commands are common among the catalogs. However, each library generally implements site-specific features with which you may not be familiar. Read the online help and news screens when prompted.

For help connecting to MichNet, call WSU's C&IT Consulting Office, 313-577-4778 or Network Control Center, 313-577-4746.

LUIS (Library User Information System): DCAT BASIC SEARCHING GUIDE

GENERAL INFORMATION

LUIS is the online system of the Wayne State University Library System (WSULS). DCAT, for Detroit Area Library Network Catalog, lists the books and other holdings of WSULS. DCAT also contains records for other libraries in DALNET. Two-character codes identify the DALNET library on DCAT index screens; "WS" stands for Wayne State.

DCAT records include location, call number, and subject heading information. Most DCAT records also indicate if the materials are charged out (and when they are due back), or if they are on order.

BEGINNING A SEARCH

Begin by reading the introductory screen. Step-by-step instructions will orient you to DCAT and prompts will guide you through your search. Help screens are available by typing h and pressing the ENTER key.

Examples below show how searches may be entered. The computer will "read" your search term(s) from left to right and display all items in DCAT that match or begin with the letters or words following the equal sign (=). The last term in an author, title, and subject search can be shortened without use of a symbol. For example, t=alcohol will retrieve titles beginning with alcohol, alcoholics, and alcoholism. This kind of shortened search is called truncation. Keyword search terms need to be followed by a question mark (?) if truncation is desired. For example: k= microcomput?

SELECTING SUBJECT HEADINGS

Consult the Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH) list for terms which can be searched with s=. Consult the Medical Subject Headings (MeSH) list for medical terms which can be searched with sm=. These subject lists are located in most Reference areas.

SEARCH RESULTS

An Author or Title Search will result in the following:

- If search retrieves one match, the DCAT record will be displayed, with call number and location.

- If search retrieves 14 or fewer matches, an index screen will be displayed. The two-letter code following the author/title indicates the DALNET library which owns the item; WSULS materials have the code WS. Type the line number of the index entry corresponding to the desired title and location and press ENTER to display the DCAT record.
- If search retrieves more than 14 matches, a guide screen will be displayed, which groups the results alphabetically. Type the number of the guide term that matches or precedes the desired search result and press ENTER. This will display the index screen.

A Subject Search will result in the following:

- Subject guide screens display all subject headings in the online catalog which begin with your search term(s). Type the number of the subject guide entry corresponding to the desired subject heading and press ENTER. This will display a subject index screen.
- Subject index screens display all titles in alphabetical order with a particular subject heading. Type the line number of the subject index entry corresponding to the desired title and location and press ENTER. This will display the DCAT record.

A Keyword Search will result in the following:

- Keyword index screens list the first 250 WSULS and DALNET titles in reverse chronological order. Type the line number of the index entry to display the DCAT record.

HELPFUL HINTS

- Information is sent to the computer only after you press the ENTER key. Do not use the RETURN or  key.
- Searches can be entered at the bottom of any DCAT screen.
- The search you entered will always be displayed at the top of the screen. Identify any errors and revise your input, if necessary.
- When searching titles, omit the initial article, e.g., a, an, the, la, les.
- If the correct form of the word is not known, try other forms, e.g., initials, acronyms, abbreviations, variant spellings, hyphenations.
- If you are unsure of the correct title or author, or if your search results in the message 'NO ENTRIES FOUND', try shortening the title or the name.
- If you are unsure of the subject heading, try a title search using the subject as the first word or try a keyword search.
- All LC subject headings with subdivisions need to have two hyphens between terms, e.g., s=history--dictionaries.

IF YOU NEED ASSISTANCE, ASK A LIBRARY STAFF MEMBER

LUIS: BASIC KEYWORD SEARCHING IN DCAT

GENERAL INFORMATION

Keyword searches locate words appearing anywhere in the author, title, and subject parts of the database record. Searching by keyword is useful when you are unsure of the exact wording of an author, title or subject heading OR when you want to combine keywords, such as a word from the title with an author's name.

CAUTION: Keyword searches take the computer LONGER to execute than author, title, and subject searches. While a search is being processed, a communication symbol (e.g., ⊕, com..., x[]) will display in the lower left hand corner of the screen.

KEYWORD SEARCHING

The command for a keyword search is k=.

EXAMPLE: KEYWORD SEARCH RETRIEVES ALL OF THE FOLLOWING:
 k=king authors: King, Stephen; Vidor, King titles: Easter: the King James Version; The King and I subjects: John, King of England; King, Martin Luther

TRUNCATION (?)

Truncated searches retrieve all words that begin with the letters typed in a search. Truncation of a keyword search must be specifically requested by using a question mark (?).

EXAMPLES:

k=bank will retrieve ONLY: bank
k=bank? will retrieve: bank, banks, banker, banking, bankrupt, etc.

QUALIFYING BY FIELD

It is possible to restrict a keyword search to a particular part of a record. The parts of the record are called fields. There are author (au) fields, title (ti) fields, and subject (su) fields. Use a two-letter code representing the type of field at the end of the keyword, with a period preceding and following the code.

EXAMPLES:

k=king.au. retrieves records with the word king anywhere in the author fields
k=king.tl. retrieves records with the word king anywhere in the title fields k=king.su. retrieves records with the word king anywhere in the subject fields k=king?.tl. retrieves records with the word king, kings, kingdom, kingswood, etc. anywhere in the title field

LARGE SEARCH RESULTS

Keyword searching often retrieves a large number of records. Regardless of the number found, only the first 250 will display (in reverse chronological order). You can reduce the number you retrieve by adding field qualifiers or by combining keywords through the use of operators. Keyword searches can also be qualified by language, date of publication, and format.

Operators are used to show relationships between keywords.

Operators:	Keyword Search Examples:	Retrieves:
AND	k=shakespeare and midsummer	records with both words
OR	k=dream or midsummer	records with either word
NOT	k=dream not shakespeare	records with the first word, but not the second word
ADJ	k=midsummer adj nights	records with the first word directly preceding the second word (adjacent)
SAME	k=midsummer same nights	records where both words appear in the same type of field
WITH	k=midsummer with dream	records where both words appear in the same sentence

If no operator is used between keywords, the system assumes the operator SAME.

NESTING

Use parentheses to "nest" searches together to dictate the order in which the operations are to be performed. Nested searches are complex and the response time may be very slow. Operations within parentheses will be performed first.

EXAMPLE: k=(microcomput?.tl. adj software.tl.) and (ibm or apple)

STOPWORDS

Some words appear so frequently in LUIS record that they cannot be used in a keyword search. When these stopwords are used in a keyword search, LUIS will respond with "NO ENTRIES FOUND".

STOPWORDS ARE: a an by for in of on the to

AND, NOT, OR, SAME and WITH can be used only as operators.

HELPFUL HINTS

- Type exp k`ENTER` for series of keyword help screens.
- If your search is more than 48 characters long, type: r `ENTER` for a search screen with more typing space.
- Keyword searches take LONGER than author, title and subject searches. Please be patient.
- Avoid using a very general keyword such as "history" or "economics" unless the keyword is combined with another keyword or qualified by a field.
Example: k=history and thomas.au.
- If the keyword is hyphenated, replace the hyphen with the operator ADJ.
Example: k=audio adj visual
- If no operator is typed between keywords, the assumed operator will be: SAME.
- Keyword searches only display the first 250 titles retrieved. To see additional titles, you need to combine keywords or qualify your search.
- It will not always be obvious why your keyword search retrieves a specific display. The keyword searched may be from a part of the record that does not display on the screen you are viewing.
- Each database in LUIS has unique keyword features — consult their corresponding leaflets for more information.
- If you need assistance, ask a library staff member.

LUIS: ADVANCED KEYWORD SEARCHING IN DCAT

GENERAL INFORMATION

To learn the basics of keyword searching, consult the BASIC KEYWORD SEARCHING GUIDE: LUIS Leaflet No. 3.

Keyword searches can be qualified by field codes to limit the number of items retrieved in DCAT. Codes are added to the end of a keyword, preceded and followed by periods. Below are codes used to limit searches and sample searches.

CAUTION: Keyword searches take the computer LONGER to execute than author, title, and subject searches. While a search is being processed a communication symbol (e.g., ⊕, com..., x[]) will display in the lower left hand corner of the screen.

LIMITING A DCAT KEYWORD SEARCH TO AUTHORS, TITLES, OR SUBJECTS

It is possible to restrict a keyword search to a particular part of a DCAT record. The parts of the record are called fields. There are author (au) fields, title (ti) fields, and subject (su) fields. Use a two-letter code representing the type of field at the end of the keyword, with a period preceding and following the code.

- .au. = only author fields are searched
- .ti. = only title fields are searched
- .su. = only subject fields are searched

Examples: k=nader.au. and consumer.ti.
k=calculus.su.

LIMITING A KEYWORD SEARCH BY LANGUAGE

The code for qualifying by language is .la. To qualify a search by language, type a keyword followed by three components: the operator "and", the language abbreviation listed below, and .la.

Example: k=semiconductors.su. and fre.la.
(will retrieve books about semiconductors written in French)

The abbreviations for some languages are:

ara = Arabic	fre = French	ita = Italian
chi = Chinese	ger = German	rus = Russian
eng = English	heb = Hebrew	spa = Spanish

Consult a Reference Librarian for additional language codes.

[OVER]

LIMITING A KEYWORD SEARCH BY DATE OF PUBLICATION

The code for qualifying by date of publication is .dt1. To qualify a search by date, type a keyword followed by three components: the operator "and", the date of publication, and .dt1.

Example: k=semiconductors.su. and 1988.dt1.
(will retrieve items about semiconductors published in 1988)

NOTE: Be sure to use the numeral 1 and not the letter l in the date.

LIMITING A KEYWORD SEARCH BY TYPE OF MATERIAL (FORMAT)

The code for qualifying by type of material is .fmt. To qualify a search by format, type a keyword followed by three components: the operator "and", the format code listed below, and .fmt.

Example: k=semiconductors.su. and s.fmt.
(retrieves serial publications about semiconductors)

k=casablanca.tl. and f.fmt.
(retrieves the film Casablanca)

The codes for different formats are:

b = books	s = serials (includes journals and newspapers)
p = maps	m = music (scores and sound recordings)
f = visual materials	u = archives and manuscripts
d = machine readable data files (includes software)

LIMITING A KEYWORD SEARCH BY DALNET LIBRARY

To qualify by DALNET library, type a keyword followed by: the operator "and", the two-letter DALNET library code listed below, and--for DALNET libraries with small collections--the suffix .lib.

Example: k=gambling.tl. and ws
(retrieves WSU records with gambling in the title)

k=thyroid.su.and bh.lib.
(retrieves only Botsford Hospital records with thyroid in the subject field)

The codes for the DALNET libraries are:

BH = Botsford Hospital	OL = Oakland County-Law
BR = Beaumont Hospital	OU = Oakland University
CH = Children's Hospital	RE = Reuther Library
DP = Detroit Public Library	UD = University of Detroit Mercy
HH = Harper Hospital	WA = Walsh College
HP = Highland Park Public Library	WC = Wayne County Comm College
MC = Macomb Community College	WS = Wayne State University
OC = Oakland Community College

LUIS: WILSON PERIODICAL INDEXES

GENERAL INFORMATION

LUIS, the Library User Information System, includes access to periodical index databases as well as the traditional access to the online catalog of Wayne State University Library System (WSULS) and the other libraries in the Detroit Area Library Network (DALNET). See LUIS leaflets nos. 1-4 for instructions on searching the online catalog.

At a specially designated LUIS terminal, type choose Indexes and press <ENTER> to display a menu listing the databases available from that terminal.

The first periodical index database added to the database selection menu is produced by the H.W. Wilson Company. The Wilson database has the four-letter database label wils. You may type choose wils and press <ENTER> from any LUIS screen to begin searching the Wilson periodical indexes.

WILSON DATABASE

There are eight periodical indexes included in the Wilson database:

- Applied Sciences & Technology Index (AS), indexes articles pertaining to aeronautics, chemistry, computer technology, energy, geology, mathematics, physics, mineralogy, oceanography, and engineering;
- Art Index (AR), indexes articles from U.S. and foreign periodicals in the areas of archaeology, architecture, arts and crafts, design, painting, and sculpture;
- Business Periodicals Index (BP), indexes articles in accounting, advertising, public relations, banking, communications, economics, finance, industrial relations, insurance, management, marketing, and real estate;
- General Science Index (GS), indexes a wide variety of periodicals at various levels of sophistication from over 100 leading science journals and magazines from the United States and Great Britain;
- Humanities Index (HU), indexes articles in folklore, history, language and literature, literary and political criticism, performing arts, philosophy, and religion and theology;
- Library Literature Index (LI), indexes library science and information science journals.
- Readers' Guide Abstracts (RG), indexes articles in nearly 200 popular periodicals, and includes detailed abstract of the contents of the article up to 150 words;
- Social Sciences Index (SS), indexes articles in anthropology, economics, law and criminology, medical sciences, political science, psychology, public administration, and sociology;

The combined Wilson database represents indexing from over 1,000 periodicals covering articles appearing from approximately 1983 to the present. The Wilson database is updated monthly. Check the explain wils screens for precise update and coverage information.

AUTHOR, TITLE, AND SUBJECT SEARCHING IN WILSON

Wilson search commands are essentially the same as those in DCAT, with some minor but important differences. For more details, read the online instruction screens in Wilson; type exp t, exp a, exp s, or exp k and press <ENTER> for more information.

If you know the exact title of a periodical article, type t= followed by the title of the article, omitting initial articles (a, an, the). For example:

t=covenant house
t=detroit and the uaw

To search Wilson by author, type a= followed by the author of the article, last name first. For example:

a=sontag susan
a=american psychol

[OVER]

If you know only the subject of the article, type s= followed by the subject. It is important to note that Wilson uses a different controlled subject vocabulary from the subjects used in the DCAT online catalog. For example:

s=medicaid
s=persian gulf war

KEYWORD SEARCHING IN WILSON

If you get no results with your t=, a=, or s= search, try a keyword search in Wilson by typing k= followed by a word (or words). You can limit your keyword search to words in the author or title or subject heading fields of the records; this is called a qualified search. To qualify keyword searches, you must attach a two-letter suffix to the term. A period (.) must immediately precede and follow the suffix. For example:

k=grant.au. retrieves only records with grant in author fields.
k=grant.ti. retrieves only records with grant in title fields.
k=grant.su. retrieves only records with grant in subject heading fields.

Truncation in Keyword Searches

Although you do not have to use a special code when truncating terms in author, title, or subject searches, you must add a question mark (?) to your search term to truncate words in keyword searches. This symbol tells the system to look for all words matching or beginning with the word you type. For example:

k=genetic?.ti. retrieves records with genetic, genetically, and genetics in title fields.
k=cartoon?.su. retrieves records with cartoon, cartoons, and cartoonists in subject heading fields.

Using Operators

It is possible to combine two or more words into a single keyword search by using operators. The most common operators are or, and, and adj. You can perform more complicated keyword searches using other connectors as described on the keyword help screens.

The OR Operator. Use or between words in a search to find all records with either or both words in the record (that is, the first word or the second word, or both words). This kind of search is useful when two words have the same general meaning, and you want information pertaining to both. Of all the operators, or usually retrieves the largest number of records. For example:

k=cartoons or animation retrieves records with the word cartoons as well as records with the word animation.

The AND Operator. Use and between words in a search to find all records that contain both words. The and operator limits what you retrieve and is most useful when you want information on a topic with a dual focus. For example:

k=drinking and driving retrieves only records in which both drinking and driving appear.
k=drinking.ti. and driving.ti. retrieves only records in which both words appear in the title field.

The ADJ (Adjacent) Operator. Use adj between words to look for records in which the search words appear directly next to each other and in the exact order entered. For example:

k=body adj language retrieves records with the words body language in this order anywhere in the record

Stopwords in Keyword Searches

Some words and abbreviations are so common they are not useful search terms; such terms are called stopwords. In keyword searching, you cannot use stopwords such as a, an, or the or the system will respond NO ENTRIES FOUND. The list of Wilson stopwords can be found on the keyword help screens.

See also: LUIS Leaflet No. 8: LUIS ADVANCED SEARCHING IN WILSON PERIODICAL INDEXES

LUIS: ADVANCED SEARCHING IN WILSON PERIODICAL INDEXES

ADVANCED KEYWORD SEARCHING IN WILSON

You can use keyword techniques to perform sophisticated searches in the Wilson database like you can in the DCAT online catalog. Notice that some of the field qualifiers are different in Wilson from those in the DCAT online catalog.

Perform advanced Wilson searching by combining article descriptions (or abbreviations) and field qualifier codes using the operator "and".

Limiting a Wilson Keyword Search by Language

To qualify a search by language, type a keyword search followed by three components: the operator "and", the language abbreviation listed below, and the qualifier .la. (Most Wilson articles are in English.) For example:

k=architecture.su. and fre.la.
(will retrieve articles about architecture written in French)

The abbreviations for some languages are:

ara	=	Arabic	fre	=	French	ita	=	Italian
chi	=	Chinese	ger	=	German	rus	=	Russian
eng	=	English	heb	=	Hebrew	spa	=	Spanish

Limiting a Wilson Keyword Search by Date of Publication

To qualify a search by date, type a keyword search followed by three components: the operator "and", the date of publication, and the qualifier .yr. For example:

k=ohara.au. and 1988.yr.
(will retrieve articles by an author named O'Hara published in 1988)

Limiting a Wilson Keyword Search by Wilson Index

To qualify a search by a particular Wilson index within the database, type a keyword search followed by: the operator "and", the three-letter index abbreviation listed below, and the qualifier .ic. For example:

k=baseball.ti. and bpl.ic.
(retrieves only Business Periodicals Index records with baseball in the title)

The abbreviations for the Wilson indexes are:

art	=	Art Index
ast	=	Applied Science & Technology Index
bpl	=	Business Periodicals Index
gsi	=	General Science Index
hum	=	Humanities Index
lib	=	Library Literature Index
rga	=	Readers' Guide Abstracts
ssi	=	Social Sciences Index

[OVER]

Limiting a Wilson Keyword Search by Periodical Title (Source)

To qualify a search by a particular periodical title, type a keyword search followed by: the operator "and", the periodical title (omitting stopwords), and the qualifier .so. For example:

k=kuwait.su. and newweek.so.
(retrieves articles from the Newsweek about Kuwait)

Limiting a Wilson Keyword Search by Special Feature

To qualify a search by a special feature, type a keyword search followed by: the operator "and", the abbreviation for the special feature (listed below), and the qualifier .sf. For example:

k=steath and il.sf.
(will retrieve articles with an illustration of the Stealth bomber)

The special features abbreviations in Wilson articles are:

bibl	=	bibliography
chart	=	charts
col	=	color illustrations
graph	=	graphs
il	=	illustrations
map	=	maps
por	=	portraits

Limiting a Wilson Keyword Search by Publication Type

To qualify a search by a publication type, type a keyword search followed by: the operator "and", the abbreviation for the publication type (listed below), and the qualifier .pt. For example:

k=(dan? adj quayle) and biogr.pt.
(retrieves articles with a biography of Dan Quayle)

The publication type abbreviations in Wilson articles are:

autob	=	autobiography	mplcr	=	motion picture review
ballr	=	ballet review	obitu	=	obituary
bibli	=	bibliography	oprar	=	opera review
biogr	=	biography	phonr	=	phonograph review
brv	=	book review	poems	=	poetry
dancr	=	dance review	profl	=	corporate profile
intrv	=	interview	telpr	=	television review

Stopwords In Keyword Searches

Remember that keyword searches will result in NO ENTRIES FOUND if you include a stopword in your search. Stopwords are very common words like prepositions and articles. Read the keyword help screen series carefully to learn about stopwords unique to Wilson keyword searching.
