SEPTEMBER 11 - Last Day to Register for Classes

Two evils plague us: (1) Boredom (2) Lack of personal fulfillment. Take a class at MCC this Fall and boot these happiness destroyers out of your door. Classes available during the day or at night for credit or audit (no examinations). For information and to register by phone, call Mrs. Joyce Anderson, Registrar, at (313) 651-5800.

SEPTEMBER 22 - Make a Purchase from MCC Bookstore

Boyd Glover, our Bookstore manager, is pushing to make $25,000 in profits from the Bookstore operation...with every dollar being plowed into scholarships for good Christian young people. If we can all make this profit happen probably as many as 50 students will receive scholarships because you have been a purchaser at MCC Bookstore. Spread the word about our Christian Bookstore Center.

OCTOBER 6 - Associates' Fall Festival

Attendance at the Fall Festival is a tradition. Stroll over our beautiful campus with hundreds of others. Buy a steakburger and a slice of homemade pie..... armed with new energy you will enjoy browsing through the stands and greeting your friends under the big tent. It is a fun day. And your purchases will be a blessing to our College since the proceeds are used for God's work at Michigan Christian College.

OCTOBER 15-18 - 16th Annual Lectureship

A powerful theme, "Faith in Action," featuring unusually well-qualified Christians; such as, Joe Barnett, from Broadway in Lubbock; Fausto Salvoni, former priest from Italy; Humphrey Foutz of Baltimore; Burton Coffman of Houston! Albert Hill will conduct a session each day on "How to Launch an Effective Bus Ministry." New York is sending three Christian women to conduct nine classes on vital topics. South Africa is sending Conrad Steyn. A complete program is to be available soon. Meanwhile:

- ..Save these important days for Lectureshiping.
- ..Organize a group from your congregation to come on your church bus one evening.
- ..Housing for out-of-town guests will be arranged if possible if you will advise us of your interests soon.
