First second-generation student joins student body

Marking a significant event for any institution, the first student whose parents both attended Michigan Christian College enrolled for classes on August 27. Mary Blake, daughter of Leonard and Dona Mai (Bruce) Blake, came to MCC from Littleton, Colorado to be a part of MCC's twenty-first year. Mary's father, originally from Newton, Iowa and Mary's mother, originally from Montague, Michigan, met at MCC and graduated with the first class in 1961. In addition to her parents, Mary has six aunts and uncles who also attended MCC.

As residence halls opened on August 25, 280 students from thirteen states and four foreign countries filled the campus with activity. Students came to MCC from Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Wisconsin, Ethiopia, Micronesia, Saudi Arabia, and South Africa. Over the years, representatives from thirty-three states and thirty-three foreign countries have made up the student body. Each has brought a unique background that has contributed to a lot of special years.

Chemistry instructor aids national exam preparation

Known on campus for his thoroughness and individual attention, Professor David Cole has brought a positive strength to the Science Department since his joining the MCC faculty in 1975. This fact became further evident when Mark Briggs, a 1979 MCC graduate, recently ranked in the 98 and 94 percentile on two nationally standardized tests of the American Chemical Society.

In addition to his courses in general and organic chemistry, Professor Cole teaches physical science and coaches the cross country team, which began four years ago as a result of his efforts. He holds a B.S. degree from Harding University and a M.S. from Kansas State University.

At a glance

Three MCC students left on September 30 for Ghana, West Africa to assist in an evangelistic campaign sponsored by the University Drive Church of Christ in Pontiac. They will spend three weeks on the project before returning to campus.

Cross country runners have taken first place in one out of two meets to date, while the tennis team holds a 2-0 record. Prospective team members interested in sports scholarships should contact the Admissions Office.

Forty-one students participated in MCC's first Career Weekend on September 21 and 22. Special speakers, vocational testing, and individual career counseling highlighted the day.

Preparations for another exciting basketball season continued with the selection of the 1979-80 cheerleading squad. Co-captains are Michigan freshmen Robyn Siegel of Wyandotte and Mary Chasca of Taylor. Others are Kari and Toni Dorsey of Utica, Michigan, Debbie Frye of Hazel Park, Michigan, Mary Beth Hollis of Richmond, Indiana, and Sue McDaniel of Bradenton, Florida. Watch the mail for your own season pass to the home games.

New college catalogs featuring an autumn campus scene on the cover may be obtained from the Admissions Office. Simply return the card below with a note requesting your copy.

Mission Emphasis has tentative plans to assist in door-to-door campaign work in the Michigan cities of Alpena, Baldwin, Gladwin, Sault Ste. Marie, Sheridan, and South Lyon during the coming months. Others interested in hosting the group this year may contact Charles Babb at MCC.

Senior Guest Day features singing groups

Opening Night for MCC's Autumn and Brighter Days brought a full day to a close at Senior Guest Day I on October 5. Visiting members of the class of 1980 spent the day in classes, chapel, a luncheon with the faculty, informational sessions, and chorus rehearsal. An evening dinner hosted by the admissions staff and Ambassadors preceded the highlight performances of Opening Night.

Tim Dill of Andrews, Indiana and Mike Villar of Lincoln Park, Michigan join returning member Clay Sturgeon of Indianapolis, Indiana in the new Autumn. Brighter Days features Cherry Echols of Benoni, South Africa, Sandy Evans of New Haven, Indiana, Barb Keene of Saginaw, Michigan, Dayton Blake of Flint, Michigan, Craig Hart of Mansfield, Ohio, and Rick Root of Cadillac, Michigan.

Those planning activities which would be aided by some fine entertainment or inspirational singing may contact the Admissions Office to schedule either Autumn or Brighter Days.
